

Brothers in Arms

I am Joseph E. Ray. I am the koinonia (Fellow laborer-Brother in heart-Believer in Love) of Ricky Moore who's website the lessons authored by GOD in my life are present. We have been woven into each life's as witnesses of the truth of GOD for over two years. It is rare that two men can share so many of the same desires for the improvement of the quality of live for the people of this earth.

The common ground of our faith is in a GOD and Savior that has good things in mind for all of his creation no matter the circumstances. Life has many bumps and hardships in our paths. Running from them only makes them more powerful.

My brother Ricky has a way of seeing the good in every situation and I am blessed with his presence. I am learning to see the rainbow in the storm. Look above and see the lightning as an apostrophe on the exclamation of GOD's presence.

I long to help people take the joy of the Lord and bring in it into the valley where the pain is so overpowering. Together all those who join arms in the truth can conquer the enemy of GOD's creation.

Whether WE ARE involved in the job or involved on the job let us surround ourselves with the armor of the GOD. Let us march to the sound of the song of a unified body of people seeking to do the good for all those who are in need of someone or something to provide them with directions to hope.

Things that always seems to spark my thoughts.

Why is there never enough time to do what needs to be done?

Who ARE they who are always responsible for all our problems?

Why do I always turn the other cheek to late?

Is there anyone listening when I am alone and need someone to talk to?

Can I truly make a difference?

If I spend as much time looking for a solution as I do creating the problem will it make any improvements in the situation?

Now are you totally confused?

Is there really a real right and wrong? (Are you looking for that gray area that allows for the omission of right and wrong?)

Can success be achieved by me?

Am I really important in the scope of things in this world?

Would anyone miss me if I wasn't here?

Why is the line always longest on the day I need it to be short?

Well I am unique in my conception of the world around me. I am unique. There is only one me. I am one of the fingerprints of GOD. I am fearfully and wonderfully made.

Take the first step of the rest of your life. That statement is so true. You cannot reclaim the past or reach into the future. Today, this minute, is the real deal.

Come my friends and live.

The big brother...

Joey Ray
